[redacted] on the sixth floor there is a department for the testing of television sets, which, after having been finished, are finally tested there..

On the fifth floor there is further a department for galvanic work.

Furthermore the works has its own workshop, and also workshops for the production of tools, machines, and furnaces, corresponding to the size of the works.

In the new building, constructed in 1959, a production of television sets was started about 1st. January. All the technical parts are to be made at Werk für Fernseh elektronik. Only the cabinets are to be made elsewhere.

Production of diodes/Kostenstelle 170.

[redacted] production of diodes to be between 20.000 and 30.000 a day. 50X1-HUM

[redacted] Kostenstelle 160 produces transmitter valves, 150 and 156 special valves almost exclusively for the armed forces. 50X1-HUM

[redacted] officers from the NVA/See came

[redacted] to check the profuction and to take it over, although it was said officially that the special valves were destined for the mercantile marine.

The transmitter <sup>valve</sup> and <sup>the</sup> special valves can, as far as known, actually be used both in submarines and destroyers.

The type AG 1006 can show the largest production figures. T

These transmitter valves are 20 to 22 cm long with a plastics socket. A capacity of production of 1.000 to 1.200 per day ~~has been planned~~ is counted on.

50X1-HUM

[redacted] the other types [redacted] are made in various sizes between 50 cm and 110 cm and are mounted in a copper socket. The internal construction of the valves about 110 cm is net-like.
